About the Review
Humanities and Technology Review (HTR) is an annual publication of the Humanities & Technology Association (HTA). HTR offers a publication outlet for interdisciplinary articles on a broad range of themes addressing the interface between the humanities and technology. HTR is a refereed journal, and all decisions with regard to the acceptance of articles for publication will be made by the editors. The production and printing of the current issue of HTR has been funded by the Humanities and Technology Association.

About the HTA
The HTA was founded in October 1978 to bring together a wide variety of disciplines to promote understanding of the cultural interaction of the humanities, science and technology to help define how humanistic concerns interface with technological achievements and advances.

Contact Information
For information concerning the HTA contact Dr. Darrell Arnold, Interim Dean of Biscayne College, Associate Professor of Philosophy, St. Thomas University, 16401 NW 37th Ave, Miami Gardens, FL 33054-6459 or by email: darnold@stu.edu, To subscribe to HTR, see http://hta-net.org/.

Manuscript Submissions Policy and Instructions
HTR is available both in print and electronic media and all work published in HTR will come under a Creative Commons "Attribution, Non-Commercial, No Derivatives" license. [Authors should consult the Creative Commons website (www.creativecommons.org) for further information.] Manuscripts should follow the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (sixth or subsequent edition). Articles should be approximately 6000 words; but this guideline is flexible. Book reviews should be 1500-2100 words in length and they should provide a substantive assessment, as well as a critical analysis, of the book's theme. Reviews should be on books that have been published within two years of the journal volume in which they will appear. All submissions should be prepared for blind review. Avoid ampersands. Footnotes should be kept to a minimum. Do not use any special formatting tools. Submissions should be sent by email as an MSWORD 2007 attachment to: Serwin@barry.edu. A signed letter of submission and hard copy can also be sent to:
